"LifeGuide Bible Studies are wonderful tools that enable individuals or groups to delve deeper into God's word. They have been, for us, the bestselling series of studies over the last thirty years."

—Rick Lewis, owner and manager, Logos Bookstore of Dallas, Texas

Creating a Legacy of Inductive Bible Study

Since the publication of the first LifeGuide® Bible study (LBS), Genesis, in 1985, InterVarsity Press has strived to create accessible Bible studies for individuals and groups.

In 1982, InterVarsity Christian Fellowship staff member Jack Kuhatchek and IVP editors Andy Le Peau and Jim Hoover conceptualized what became LifeBuilder Bible Studies (soon renamed LifeGuide® Bible Studies). The idea was to produce a quality series of Bible study guides that would be relevant and inductive, and also appeal to both Christian students and laypeople in churches. The first seven studies were published in 1985, with a plan to have an LBS for almost every book of the Bible as well as numerous topical studies.

"Over ten million LifeGuide® Bible Studies have been distributed around the world since InterVarsity Press first started publishing them in 1985," says Cindy Bunch, associate publisher, editorial, and LBS series editor. "They are designed to create conversation around Scripture passages. The discussion format is easy to lead, and the focus on a single chapter of Scripture allows everyone to enter the conversation, even those with little prior knowledge about the Bible. LifeGuide® Bible Studies create a context for God's Word to speak into our lives today."

Editors and authors include the late John Stott, J. I. Packer, Dale and Sandy Larsen, Rebecca Pippert, Patty Pell, James Sire, Paul Borthwick, and many others. With over one hundred titles currently in print, InterVarsity Press has accomplished its original goal to cover the Old and New Testaments, Bible characters, and major Christian themes.

This most recent LifeGuide, Grandparenting, is written by Le Peau and his wife, Phyllis. Together they have spent over four decades on staff with InterVarsity Christian Fellowship and IVP. They are parents to four grown children and grandparents to thirteen grandchildren. Through this study they hope to guide readers in how to be a loving and caring presence in the lives of not only their grandchildren but also their adult children as they parent.

"We used to ask ourselves how to parent well; now we ask how we grandparent well," write the Le Peaus. "To get answers we ask advice from those who have been grandparents longer than we have. We pray and ask the Lord for guidance. We take time to discuss and reason things through. And, of course, we look to Scripture for help and guidance. That is what this guide can help you with. Gathering to study as a group of grandparents can make available the wisdom of those who have had more or different experiences.
