Understand the Old Testament Like Never Before

Sandra L. Richter (PhD, Harvard University) is the Robert H. Gundry Chair of Biblical Studies at Westmont College, a member of the Committee on Biblical Translation for the NIV, and widely recognized for her work in Deuteronomy and the Deuteronomistic history. She is best known in the church for The Epic of Eden: A Christian Entry into the Old Testament, the video courses that have grown from that project, and Stewards of Eden: What Scripture Says About the Environment and Why It Matters. Her newest project, Abigail and the Waterfall: Loving God’s Good Earth, is a children’s book about stewarding the gifts of God’s creation.

Abigail and the Waterfall: Loving God’s Good Earth
August 19, 2025 | $18.00, 32 pages, hardcover | 978-1-5140-0892-8

Abigail loves Saturdays—especially when her family goes hiking to discover interesting animals, plants, and a big, beautiful waterfall! This children’s book from scholar Sandy Richter invites us to be good stewards of creation and helps both kids and adults understand what the Bible says about caring for God’s good earth.

Stewards of Eden: What Scripture Says About the Environment and Why It Matters
February 25, 2020 | $23.99, 168 pages, paperback | 978-0-8308-4926-0

Sandra L. Richter cares about the Bible and the environment. Using her expertise in ancient Israelite society as well as in biblical theology, she walks readers through biblical passages and shares case studies that connect the biblical mandate to current issues. She then calls Christians to apply that message to today’s environmental concerns.
