

DETAILS

This Shore of Light A Novel

October 13, 2026 | $21.99, 368 pages, paperback | 978-1-5140-1340-3

K. C. Ireton is an Anglican lay preacher, catechist, and author of The Circle of Seasons: Meeting God in the Church Year and A Yellow Wood and Other Stories.

A Journey of Love, Grace, and Following the Light

In the small Pacific Northwest town of Port Lawrence, five people search for a way forward in the wake of broken trust and lost hope. With This Shore of Light, immerse yourself in a story where the tides of life reveal beauty in the midst of trials—where love, family, and faith guide each step toward a brighter shore.

Read This Shore of Light if you love:

- Smalltown locations
- Meet-cutes
- Clean fiction
- A 1990s setting
- The beauty of the Pacific Northwest
- A summer story
- Fiction with spiritual depth

This book is perfect for:

- A book club
- Those who love fiction and spiritual formation
- Your next clean romance read
- A story to take on vacation

Eva Pankratz, book reviews, excerpts, and original articles
epankratz@ivpress.com

Krista Clayton, author interviews
800.843.4587 ext. 4013 or kclayton@ivpress.com

BIO

This Shore of Light
A Novel

October 13, 2026 | $21.99, 368 pages, paperback | 978-1-5140-1340-3

In the small Pacific Northwest town of Port Lawrence, five people search for a way forward in the wake of broken trust and lost hope. With This Shore of Light, immerse yourself in a story where the tides of life reveal beauty in the midst of trials—where love, family, and faith guide each step toward a brighter shore.

Anglican Preacher Brings Spiritual Depth to Fiction

K. C. Ireton is an Anglican lay preacher and catechist. She holds a Master of Arts in Apologetics from Houston Christian University, where she studied literary apologetics.

She is the author of The Circle of Seasons: Meeting God in the Church Year and A Yellow Wood and Other Stories. K. C. shares short fiction on her Substack, Evensong Stories.

She and her husband have four children and live on Puget Sound.

Visit K. C.'s website at <https://www.kcireton.com/>.

Eva Pankratz, book reviews, excerpts, and original articles
epankratz@ivpress.com

Krista Clayton, author interviews
800.843.4587 ext. 4013 or kclayton@ivpress.com

ivpress.com/media